Health and Safety Policy

1 General

Temple Carrig School, in accordance with the Safety, Health and Welfare at Work Act 2005, endeavours to ensure the health and safety of all employees, students and visitors.

The Board of Management has overall responsibility for health and safety in the school and delegates responsibility to the Principal, Safety Officer, and Safety Committee on a day to day basis. The Principal, Safety Officer and the Safety Committee, which has representatives from staff and students, address and monitor issues of health and safety regularly.

The School Safety Statement¹ contains the procedures and rules relating to safety, health and welfare within the school. This has been written by an independent safety auditor, approved by the Board of Management, analysed and commented on by the staff and made available to the members of staff. It is available for inspection by any visitor or contractor entering the school. There are also notices posted around the school regarding safety on school buses and fire drill procedures. The grounds have notices and signs relating to safety. Students and staff are frequently reminded at assemblies and staff meetings about matters relating to school safety and students' welfare. The Parents' Association is also frequently involved in safety planning and parents are frequently informed of safety issues.

It is the policy of the school to ensure as far as possible that

- Continuing risk assessments are carried out and reviewed by outside safety auditors, by the school management and by members of staff with the assistance of the School Safety Committee.
- Systems of work and school organization are maintained to reduce risks to health and safety.
- Employees and students are provided with appropriate information, instruction, equipment and supervision as necessary to ensure as far as possible their safety and the safety of others who may be affected by their actions.
- The provision of maintenance of the working environment including all plant, machinery and equipment is made safe to reduce risk to health and safety.
- The school is fitted with regulation alarms and directional signs.

3 Students

The Temple Carrig School Code of Conduct outlines the school's expectations regarding behaviour in school, while travelling to and from school and on school outings. It should be noted that, if in the opinion of the Principal, or a member of staff, a student's behaviour is such so as to constitute a health and safety hazard, that student may be removed immediately from the class or outing or, in more serious cases, from the school, until the matter can be resolved.³

In the interests of safety, students should note the following:
